Re: Support for House Bill 2554, Enacting the interstate Social Work Licensure Compact

Wednesday, February 19, 2025

Dear Chair Nosse, Vice-Chairs Javadi and Nelson, and members of the House Committee on Behavioral Health and Health Care:

My name is Dr. Stacey Hardy-Chandler. I am the Chief Executive Officer of the Association of Social Work Boards (ASWB), the nonprofit professional regulatory association that supports the Oregon Board of Licensed Social Workers in the fulfillment of its public protection mandate. I write to your committee today in support of House Bill 2554, a bill to enact the interstate Social Work Licensure Compact.

Founded more than 45 years ago, ASWB is the only nonprofit organization dedicated to social work regulation representing all 64 state and provincial governments. ASWB has been working on the compact since 2021 when we received a grant from the U.S. Department of Defense to work with the Council of State Governments to develop model legislation. Compact legislation was published in 2023, and ASWB received funding in 2024 from the Health Resources and Services Administration to support the implementation of the compact. Ongoing work continues with support from the Council of State Governments providing expert guidance and the U.S. DOD's Defense State Liaison Office offering information to legislators to expand state adoption.

There is considerable need for an interstate licensure compact to improve access to quality social work services. Workforce shortages, increased demand for care, and increasingly complicated social issues are all challenges in need of solutions. The goal of the compact is to eliminate barriers to practice and to client care, along with ensuring public protection. Through the compact, the public has greater access to professional social work services. The compact also allows social workers to ensure continuity of care when clients travel or relocate. Further, the compact reduces administrative burdens associated with holding multiple state licenses, thus enhancing the mobility of licensed social workers. ASWB is committed to supporting the licensure compact as a valuable foundation for cross-jurisdictional common ground for the benefit of our members, the profession, and the public.

To date 22 states across the United States, have enacted legislation to adopt the social work licensure compact, and 15 additional states – including Oregon – have legislation currently pending. With more states joining the compact, more mental health professionals will have the ability to serve client populations. The key benefit to us all is access: increasing people's access to social workers and expanding social workers' access to broader communities. Adoption of the social work licensure compact legislation will allow Oregon to expand its communities' access to the critical services provided by the social work profession while simultaneously ensuring consistency regarding what it means to receive those services from an individual using the title of "licensed social worker."

Core to our mission is accountability and public protection through the regulation of safe, competent, and ethical social work practices. Objective entry-to-practice competence measurements help us achieve that mandate. Our work ensures that the Oregon Board of Licensed Social Workers, as an ASWB member board, has access to the data and tools required to provide oversight of the social work profession, including initial licensure decisions. House Bill 2554 ensures the continuation of the high standards and integrity befitting professional regulation.

We welcome the opportunity to collaborate with the members of the House Committee on Behavioral Health and Health Care and other stakeholders to ensure that the people of Oregon have access to a robust workforce of licensed professionals who have demonstrated the knowledge and skills to serve their communities. Please contact us if we may be able to provide any additional information or clarification about the importance of the interstate social work licensure compact. Thank you for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted,
