

Submitter: Ivan Schrepping

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Climate, Energy, and Environment

Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB2738

Isn't there already a problem with street racing? Why would we take away the place where people go to legally race? If anything since the illegal street racing is a problem, getting into official tracks should be supported by the people. Taking away the ability to go to the track where it is more safe for these activities, will only lead to more people participating in illegal racing on the public road ways and endangering random people who have no connection. This also puts out a bad name for automotive enthusiasts who do not participate in illegal activities. But end up getting stuck in it or around it, as well as putting them in danger and their prized possession in danger.