I support HB 2640.

Failures to appear and failures to report are serious matters that should not be ignored or taken lightly. But, when society is teaching certain people the importance and expectations of following laws and regulations related to their behaviors, it is essential that the follow-ups to these failures be suitable and just.

From my years of work in behavior classrooms in public schools, I have always held that the consequences to offences should be reasonable, and still send a strong message. The suggested modifications listed in this bill appear appropriate for the situations listed.
