I used to work at Trojan. I read dosimeters and there was never a radiation incident. Trojan made a positive financial impact to the community and schools. Rainier and Columbia County were never better off than when it had Trojan. I think it's time that other counties, like Umatilla County, saw that kind of prosperity too. Misinformation on nuclear power is rampant for those who don't work in the industry and have never been close enough to a nuclear plant to know any better.
