I immigrated here legally from Europe in 1982. I worked hard to learn the language with myself to a school took out loans to go to college and got jobs to pay back my loans. I never own any slaves and I don't think that most of the people that immigrated in this country owned any slaves. Therefore, I oppose any reparation of the sort I came here with empty hands and a bag of clothes, just like me there were many others who worked hard to accomplish the American dream. Anybody can do it without a handout from the government.
