

Submitter: Ukiah Hawkins

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Judiciary

Measure, Appointment or Topic: SB426

SB 426 would make a homeowner liable to any non-union construction worker who is not paid by the company that employs or contracted with the worker(s), even if the homeowner paid the employer. While everyone should be paid for their work, holding a homeowner who has acted in good faith and fulfilled their contractual obligation to pay for construction services liable for the failure of a contractor to pay their workers is fundamentally unfair.