HB 2949: Oregon's Department of Environmental Quality shall contract with a third party to study and assess financial assurance requirements for owners or operators of bulk oils and liquid fuels terminals.

Total Support.

As this involves infrastructure security, the DHS Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency can respond to this effort, with many services free of charge. This Agency encompasses the Energy Sector. Idaho National Lab (INL) is currently conducting a similar fuel security study of Washington State infrastructure under CISA management.

Many of Washington's owners and operators of bulk oils and liquid fuels terminals appear on the list of Oregon's CEI Hub operators reporting to DEQ under the 2022 SB 1567 Seismic Vulnerability Assessment.

The goal of this testimony is to expedite the initiation of this critical effort with the least possible delay by offering recognition of a similar study investigating similar infrastructure. The Fuels RRAP study will disclose typical infrastructure hazards that merit indemnification.

This Bill does not declare an emergency for its enactment but must, since the routine 90-day suspense contradicts the urgency for early action.
