I oppose this task force. If we look at California, they have been working on this for an extended period of time. Committee after committee with no action. This task force is simply a way to further drain taxpayer dollars. As we have seen from everything that Oregon does, lots of talk and money with no results.

Instead of wasting money on this, let's invest in those communities that need it. The government always says that they will not follow through and no willingness to show where the money goes. Asking this generation to pay for the sins of past generations is not the answer. We must move forward, not backward. This is just another way that Oregon is trying to hurt, tax, and divide its people.
