In the years I have lived here I have witnessed Black community members offered and afforded less resources and supports than their white or otherwise counterparts and some of the most vulnerable in our communities, such as the elderly, homeless and addicts, afforded close to nothing to support them through a really challenging period socially, politically, economically. Real lives are effected and shaped by the resources offered by the government of our great state, that should be dedicated to impacting our most vulnerable. Putting more time and effort and finding info seeing reparations given to our black community members for hundreds of years of oppression still effecting their communities and families today, is a fair and reasonable response, we need reparations to go to our black community members, we need them safe and cared for and with economic stability in such an unstable time. Please make this a reality!
