This bill creates another victimless crime.

As much as I understand the harm that easily-available pornography causes on our society, I cannot support this bill. There are people out there, for whatever reason, get off on sexual relations between adults and children. This is, of course, harmful and disgusting. That said: I would rather a digital fantasy present itself than the real thing. Feeding such a desire is, of course, harmful, even if accomplished digitally.

Standing back though, who hurts? Nobody. Why waste taxpayer resources on thought crimes?
