I am perfectly happy to pay the local dump or the tire dealership when I get rid of old tires. I do not need another tax on something that is not used in any way related to the thing I'm being taxed on. In my mind, it is completely wrong to have all these extra taxes. If you want money for a rail fund, then put a tax on people who use the rail system. Or better yet, make it part of the budget you get with income taxes and quit taxing everything else.
