This is a tax grab from motorists and roads to inefficient rail and environmental pet projects, which no one uses.

First, the crazy “environmentalists” wanted us to all drive “green” electric cars, but now that those cars are widespread, the “environmentalists” want to discourage us from driving them. This is, quite simply, the elite leftists attempting to do social engineering through taxes, because they think they know best what’s good for us.

Let the market and consumers decide, not elite leftists who distrust the “masses” and markets, and think they are smarter than everyone else.

Dump this bill as extreme, leftist overreach for more government revenue for their pet projects.
