Living on a fixed income is difficult considering how much everything has gone up in cost. Without a way to increase income, it's difficult to make ends meet. Adding taxes to products such as tires, that have also gone up due to inflation, makes buying food, paying for electricity (which has increased dramatically in the last couple of years) and other necessities difficult. You may think 4% isn't much, but to those on fixed incomes, it is. I have to live within a budget and make decisions based on what I can and can't afford. Rather than taking more from those that can't afford to pay more, do what I have to do. Use the revenue you already get and make spending decisions based on what is absolutely necessary.
