Lifelong Oregonian and could not be more ashamed of how our forests have been reduced to less than nothing. Gross mismanagement has caused the year-after-year wildfires that not only destroy this valuable commodity for generations, but place the public health in danger from the smoke. The beautiful summers I grew up with no longer exist. By the time the best of summer hits, the wildfires begin and the smoke is so bad you stay indoors. Enough is enough. The failed biological experiment does not work. Open the forests and lets get Oregonians back to work, outside, and healthy again.
