Measure, Appointment or Topic: SCR23

As someone that comes from a non-dominant culture, I think it's important to keep learning about people and cultures different from us so that we can foster understanding between each other. SCR 23 does just that. This bill would create an opportunity for Oregonians to continue to learn about the diversity of Ukraine and find commonalities with people seemingly far away. Creating these types of relationships not only adds to the richness of our own culture, but also breaks down barriers and leads to a better understanding of what truly makes the Ukrainian people so resilient, brave and champions of freedom and democracy.
