

Submitter: Brian Echerer
On Behalf Of: Children unable to defend themselves
Committee: Senate Committee On Education
Measure, Appointment or Topic: SB1098

This bill wipes out the ability for adults to use discernment and sensible discretion in exposing young minds to extreme adult topics. Topics such as oral sex, anal sex, masturbation, polyamorous relations, homosexuality, rape, and the list goes on. Much of the literature in question uses graphic novel style “cartoonish animation” depicting sexual acts. If these drawing were photographs this material would be outright pornography, which is a fine line distinction. This bill will allow this material under the guise of “discrimination” and disallow any ability for school boards to protect children from adult material. It is beyond any sense to remove discernment and discretion from the adults given the responsibility to teach and protect children.