This bill is clever misrepresentation of the actual bills content. In this case , clever is not a complement.

Whail I agree that having a broad spectrum of reading materials available to all ages , not all materials are appropriate for all ages. Discrimination can be "prejudicial or unjust" ,it also , in this case should be understanding the other part of the definitionunderstanding the difference between of one thing versus another .

A broad, age appropriate variety of reading materials verses and hyper sexualized selection would be a more accurate description .

When an elementary teacher shared some of the ?? pornographic and abusive graphic novels , I was flabbergasted. When I met with our representatives and shared these materials, they too were shocked.

Most people are not aware of the new, and sometimes, deeply concerning materials present in elementary school classrooms and libraries.

If a man at a playground could be arrested for reading these books near children , it seems like these are not appropriate.

This bill does not ban books , it restricts access.

We dont let children eat only cookies , or play in traffic.Children need healthy choices to explore.

Let's be reasonable .
