I am opposed to HB 1098, it is not about censorship but protection. At our public library I have seen the teen reading section become more sexualized of the past five years. What once was limited to the adult section is now exposed to a much younger audience. The books don't need to be removed, but separated. In a school setting, the audience is already set in age and the removal of more mature material needs to remain an easy option as the scenarios occur.
