Are you also going to prohibit flavored alcohol and liquor? If not, why would you do it for this? Adults should have the freedom to put what they want in their bodies. If the reason is that this appeals to kids, well guess what? They will just drive across the border to Vancouver and buy it there. It's not stopping anyone that wants it bad enough. What we should do is take the tax money from the sales and put it towards education and prevention. Prohibition has never and will never work...
