This testimony is to say that the criminal justice system needs to be held to account and finish its investigation and not give them any more time and keep the deadline to close the cases immediately. The people need to be safe in Oregon. If there are indeed 33,000 plus sexual assault cases in Oregon then the question should be why are the police and law enforcement not finishing the cases and incarcerating the offenders? If it is a question of money I would say that the Oregon citizens should be put first because they have been taxed to death. We're tired of not being safe in our own communities. Lynda Schar
