I am against using my tax dollars to pay for food for criminals who have entered our country illegally. I barely make ends meet to afford food myself. Definition of "criminal" is one who commits act against a public law. We have US government laws that say entering this country illegally, is criminal activity. If you are not a tax paying person in Oregon, you have not participated in supporting those who might temporarily need help with food. Food stamps were never intended to be a permanent hand out. This does nothing to help people develop self worth and become productive.
