

Submitter: Kyla Yeoman

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Climate, Energy, and Environment

Measure, Appointment or
Topic: HB3814

I believe seafood processors should meet water quality and purity standards for bacteria in effluent discharges associated with fecal sources. Anything to the contrary, while likely more convenient and a cost savings for the producers, is disgusting and a public health concern.

If we have subsequent outbreaks of disease, we'll know exactly the moment this was allowed and by whom, so thank you for the advance transparency.