I am writing to express my strong opposition to Oregon Senate Bill 163, which has undergone a dramatic transformation through the “gut and stuff” practice.

Senate Bill 163 has been subjected to a “gut and stuff” maneuver, expanding from a “study 1-page document to an extensive 222-page bill. This practice involves removing the original content of a bill and replacing it with entirely new bill.. Such a drastic change undermines the legislative process, bypasses proper public scrutiny, and raises serious concerns about transparency and democratic governance.
