HB3076

I am submitting this testimony in strong opposition to HB-3076. I don't believe there is any need whatsoever for a new state licensing program for firearms dealers. There is no need to waste taxpayer money to study this.

Most of Oregon's gun dealers are small businesses. These dealers are already highly regulated by the Federal Government. Further fees and taxes would burden these small businesses to the point of closing their doors for good. They all have Federal Firearms Licenses (FFLs) without which they couldn't do business.

There is no reason to believe that adding another license to these highly regulated businesses will provide any benefit.

There are so many problems in this state that deserve the Legislature's attention.

There is no need for HB-3076. I urge you to reject this worthless and unnecessary bill.

Sincerely,

Chris Wendt
