I have been a dealer in Oregon for over 25 years. It has become increasingly difficult to conduct business in Oregon due to burdensome programs such as this. I have to fight to get the fics system to just answer the phone. I have had 3 separate banking systems shut down my accounts due to my type of business. Gun shows in portland have been all but eliminated. The federal interstate commerce laws are burdensome enough. Why don't we remove some laws like the Oregon law that prevents me from selling hand guns and receivers to folks in border states. To this day we have no idea why that's even a law. I could go through all the other hoops I already go through to stay current and service the people of Oregon but it would be redundant. I love that fact that when a 4473 is complete we have a record of a person and a gun are not criminals. Just the volume and compliance numbers should show you the ffls are not the issues. The 2 times in 25 years a gun came up stolen one was a mistake by a pawn shop and one was a mistake by a police officer. In both situations the police didn't want to pick up the guns. So it was up to the dealers todo the right thing. Enforcement the laws that are on the books repeal the dumb ones. Do what is morally right for Oregonians.
