Re: HB 3761 Art Therapy Insurance Reimbursement

To: House Committee On Behavioral Health and Health Care

I am writing to express my support of House Bill 3761. Art therapists' training is comparable to other mental health training with equivalent coursework, ethical practice, clinical supervision and passing a board certification exam. As the Oregon Licensed Certified Art Therapist license is relatively new, recognition of the license as billable by Medicaid has not yet been established. This restricts low-income and underserved communities access to these essential services.

Your support of House Bill 3761, will help to reduce redundancy for new graduates and current art therapists to no longer need to hold multiple license types to practice as an art therapist and to receive insurance reimbursement. It will also further streamline the process reducing administrative costs for the state licensing boards, Mental Health and Addiction Certification Board of Oregon, Oregon Board of Licensed Professional Counselors and Therapists, and Oregon Health Licensing Office, which all currently oversee similar aspects of licensing needed by art therapists in Oregon. House Bill 3761 will do this by establishing a supervised, provisional license for newly graduated master's level art therapists and bring all license levels under one licensing board (aligns with processes used by other behavioral health providers (professional counselors, marriage and family therapists, and clinical social workers) in Oregon.

This legislation is important because it expands access to therapeutic mental health services for Oregonians and empowers a growing workforce of mental health professionals. Art therapists provide trauma-informed care that enhances emotional resilience, supports healing, and improves mental health outcomes. By supporting HB 3761, you are reducing barriers for mental health professionals and increasing access to essential mental health care in Oregon.

As an art therapy intern, I have seen tremendous positive changes in my clients through art therapy treatment. Almost all of my clients utilize Medicaid, and as an art therapist, I will have to get multiple licenses just so I can bill insurance and provide clients with a lower socioeconomic status with accessible care. That is unnecessary work for the licensing boards, and for us practitioners. I ask you- Where should we be spending our precious energy: Battling bureaucracy, or helping people who need it and making Oregon healthier?

Thank you so much for your time and consideration to pass such an important piece of legislation.

Sincerely,

Kadyn Mauldin,
Art Therapy Graduate Student and Intern
