I'm a 71 year old retired person. I worked for a very long time, paid some crazy taxes and was adversely affected by regulations imposed upon us by our government officials.

It's beyond time for our federal, state and local governments to really take a look at how they have created a monster, with the never ending amount of regulations that they have imposed on the citizens, whom they answer to. Every single regulation adds to the price of being a citizen.

If those in power (the politicians) would govern by looking into ways to reduce overhead rather than just passing more expense on to the citizens, things would be better for all.

Please stop all wasteful spending and actually analyze each and every regulation to determine how they have affected the productivity of society. The regulations placed on forestry and environmental protection have caused massive job losses.

I'm just one of many tax payers who don't like what has happened over the years.

No new Taxes. No new Regulations. Third Party Audit of all branches of government.
