I believe that any veteran who has risked their life to preserve the American constitution, our liberty and freedom should not be required to pay any taxes of any kind. Most veterans risked their life and freedom to protect those who had no voice, no rights as humans, or were simply caught in a war zone area unsure if they would see another day. Our veterans lay their lives down to protect those people, all without expecting a thank you in return. We as Americans need to do better by our service members, both active duty and retirees to give them one less stress to worry about. If all it means is for those service members to not pay the state income tax then so be it! After all these service members risk their own lives, limbs and sometimes their eyesight to protect Americans and non Americans when the call to protect, defend and sacrifice is often called over and over again. Let's do better by our service members now, before it's too late!
