I fully support this bill. Our seniors need to have this tax exemption, most are on fixed incomes and some have health issues. Living expenses go up every year and their incomes do not. What we have going all over the country is senior and disabled people being nickle and dimed out of their hard earned homes. Seniors are on fixed incomes but still have to pay for insurances, repairs, health care, and other living expenses, one less bill with help them in many ways and better their lives. Seniors have paid their dues throughout their lives and have gotten to a point where they can retire and shouldn't have worry that they're going to be homeless because they can't afford their home.
