I oppose this.

I raise sheep and poultry that feed friends and family. It's expensive to humanly raised livestock. I many only sell a few lambs a year. Government dosent need more of my money as I'm just trying to offer small family raised stock, not mass production where livestock may have less qualify of life.

I also show dogs, support rescues and every couple years raise a litter of puppies. I dont make a living, it's a passion or hobby not an income source. This is a poorly written legislation that also punish those live in our more rural communities.
