This is another back door attempt to try and neuter our constitutionally protected rights - defined in both the 2nd Amendment and Oregon Constitution - by adding an undue burden on our gun shops for no other reason than to convince them to up and leave the state. Firearms dealers are already federally licensed. They already have strict rules to follow and can quickly lose those licenses if they fail to. Adding more red-tape, fees, and bureaucracy will not make this state one iota safer. There's only one gun store in all of Mexico and it's controlled by their government. Yet they're #13 of the top countries for homicide (<https://www.datapandas.org/ranking/violent-crime-rates-by-country>). This is yet another Democrat boondoggle to waste money our state doesn't have to look at an issue from a backwards perspective and draw us into another long and expensive court battle to defend our constitutionally protected rights. Enough already.
