

Support Chintimini

I've attended several educational sessions and tours at Chintimini and have seen firsthand the high educational quality of the programs they provide. I've attended off site public educational events as well.

The knowledgeable staff along with the animal ambassadors provide both an educational and enrichment experience that fosters an engaged, imaginative and scientifically literate community. K thru 12 students especially benefit from these programs.

In addition, the good work Chintimini does in terms of animal rehabilitation not only has a positive impact on local wildlife and the environment as a whole, but nurtures a culture of local collaboration to help care and protect our planet.
