

Submitter: Michele Patrick

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Climate, Energy, and Environment

Measure, Appointment or
Topic: HB3932

Research and history have shown that beavers do so much good for the land and ultimately the people. There used to be so many more of these important creatures and they were hunted to endangered levels. They are slowly on the comeback and we need to stop people who don't understand their role in the ecosystem.