

Submitter:	Karen Ashikeh
On Behalf Of:	Sierra Club Forestry Division
Committee:	House Committee On Climate, Energy, and Environment
Measure, Appointment or Topic:	HB3932

Beavers create the kinds of rivers and streams that support and maintain watersheds and help forest health to prevent fires and stop fires spreading. Their use of forest products as a key species help keep forests healthy and ground water and the aquifer waters clean. They are an invaluable and cost effective way to help forests and watersheds.