

Submitter: JoAnna Mullett

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Behavioral Health and Health Care

Measure, Appointment or
Topic: HB3134

Prior authorization for physical therapy is an expensive burdensome process. This would be appropriate for diagnoses that need excessive amounts of treatment, but should not be necessary for at least the first 16 visits. When patients are treated without delay, their outcomes improve and the overall cost of managing the condition improves.