My property outside of Sandy, Oregon has a year-around creek (Badger Creek) running through the south end of it. When we first moved in almost 10 years ago we didn't notice a lot of wildlife activity. However, about 5 years ago beavers found our stretch of Badger Creek and it has been unbelievable how much it has changed for the good. The wildlife has exploded! From cutthroat trout to innumerable bird species(both waterfowl and terrestrial species) we has seen such an unprecedented emergence. Please help these animals thrive by letting the beavers do their work. Thank you!
