

Submitter: Donovan Volk

On Behalf Of:

Committee: House Committee On Agriculture, Land Use, Natural Resources, and Water

Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB3800

I strongly opposed this bill . The state may want to lay claim to all water . My question is just how far into the earth do you own ? If you own all right to your property you should be able to do what you want as long as it's not a danger to others .

The state also claims to own rain water and snow fall andales it illegal for you to collect any water ..

However once the rain and snow decides to flood and damages

Your property then it becomes a act of God .

This brings to this question is the state God ? Or is God the state ,?

So how can the state kat claim to any water in Private land

When their property has entered your property rather welcomed or not ?