SB243

What does the amendment have to do with the stated purpose of the bill, "directs the Department of State Police to study background checks"? The amendment reaches far beyond and away from that purposes with a big box full of little restrictions and limitations that infringe on Second Amendment rights and overlap other bills up for discussion. I don't know how to write original objections when the intent of all the bills is the same: keep guns out of the hands of law-abiding citizens, keep citizens from protecting themselves, put gun dealers and any other business associated with guns out of business with regulations and impossible demands. Taxpayer funds expended to enforce these bills, the same taxpayers donating to protect ourselves from our government in court. Perhaps listen to the growing frustration among Oregon citizens.
