It is time for our professional communities and the State of Oregon to acknowledge the importance of Commercial Interior Designers. These folks contribute more than just skill with aesthetics in material and furniture selections, but have extensive knowledge of building code, and critical expertise in healthy and sustainable practices, and space planning making them invaluable members of the design community who deserve the legitimacy that this bill offers. This change will be good for all industry members as well as our clients and the public. I fully support these interior designers and this bill.
