I have a chronic back problem that makes it difficult for me to stand in line at a polling place. Since I am usually not free until the end of the day, I might be stuck standing in line for an hour or more, which would leave me in too much pain to be sure of getting my ballot filled out neatly. Voting is very important to me, so I would do it anyway, but I'm afraid I would accidentally fill in the wrong ovals, or have my ballot rejected for a sloppy signature.

Voting by mail is the only way I can be sure to fill out my ballot cleanly, correctly, and without pain. Oregon's current vote by mail system has allowed me to participate in every election for many years, without hardship or inconvenience. I see no reason to change it
