I am fully in support of this bill! I feel bringing back in person voting, with ID required (as well as proof of citizenship!) would go a long way towards regaining trust in our elections. It has been proven over and over that mail-in ballots provide too much of a margin for error. It may be "more convenient", but if a person really cares enough to get out and vote, they will get to the polls. As for the fiscal and revenue question, just think of the money saved in postage; also all the paper (envelopes,etc.) that won't end up in a landfill.
