Mental Health issues are a big deal nowadays—no wonder with all the drugs, legal and not, and booze. We get hopeless feelings from sanctuary cities, open borders, and then we have politicians who don't want religion. Fatherless children and people in general are confused. Allowing a 12-year-old to have body parts removed without the parents' knowledge. There is a lot more to this mental health issue that is choking Oregon. We all need clean, clear brains to make better decisions.
