Mail-in voting is a vital and important way to cast a vote especially for disabled and elderly citizens. Making in-person voting the standard method will put a serious hardship on disabled and elderly veterans and citizens. Mail-in voting is NOT proven and does NOT enable non-US citizens or deceased citizens to cast a vote, and distort the outcome of our elections. It does however make voting more accessible to many citizens in Oregon and nationwide, which in turn allows election results to be more conclusive and representative of the majority of the people living in this state and this great country.
