I absolutely love mail in voting. I can relax in my living room research the people and ballot measures at my leisure so I can make a responsible choice. Having to stand in long lines to vote, would be difficult for me as I am a senior and find it hard to stand for extended periods of time. With no opportunities for sitting, or bathroom breaks, not to mention are often inclement weather many seniors would find it difficult if not impossible to go to the polls. Is that the goal to keep us from voting? Because that's what it feels like.
