SB210

I have lived in other states without mail-in voting, and I find mail-in voting to be a much better system. Mail-in voting works well. It provides greater access to voting, including for those who may not be able to vote in-person due to disability, lack of transportation, work schedules, or other issues. Mail-in voting also allows for a more informed electorate. I appreciate having the time to read the voter pamphlet and research additional information on candidates or ballot measures so I can make informed decisions. Eliminating mail-in voting will disenfranchise voters and create a less-informed electorate. Maintain mail-in voting in Oregon and do not move forward with SB 210.
