I'm against this because there has been limited to no proof of actual fraud within our current voting system. I understand there was a glitch in a new DMV computer format that caused temporary issues but it seems clear that that issue has been rectified and was not taken advantage of. Providing only 1 day for all of the eligible voters in the state to get their ballots in is completely unrealistic and forcing people to jump through additional hoops to vote by mail is just another pointless burdensome bureaucratic layer to what is currently a simple process put forth by a party that says they wish to do away with the constraints of the bureaucracy. I find it hypocritical. I feel strongly this will impact people's ability to have their voice heard in our elections. If it makes it to the ballot I will vote no.
