In person voting is not necessary, has not been effective, is inconvenient for the disabled, seniors and those employed on voting day.

As a senior and caretaker for my spouse, I support mail- in voting which has not been proven to have a fraudulent history.

The current administration distorts facts around mail-in voting in order to maintain chaos already flooding the news and creating suspicion and doubt.

My spouse is of the same opinion, so you may count 2 in this household who are against in-person voting.
