

Submitter:

John Steed

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

I support SB210. I do hope you read beyond my initial supporting statement. Because if we can not trust our elections, we have lost our nation to tyranny. All it takes is for the individual to show identification and the motivation to appear at a polling place. If the people or person does not have that minimal amount of dedication or knowledge of the issues, do you really want that person to vote counter to a knowledgeable electorate? Our republic depends on a knowledgeable electorate, that can decipher beyond platitudes to the heart of the issue. Please return us to a representative and thoughtful electorate, not a reactive emotional government. Thank you very much.