

Submitter: Thomas Busse
On Behalf Of:
Committee: Senate Committee On Rules
Measure, Appointment or Topic: SB210

The problem with mail-in voting is voter intimidation.

A colleague of mine who works for a "deep blue" nonprofit had his work host a "Mark your ballots for Kamala" party. Everyone was expected to bring in their marked ballots where they would be photographed for social media. Failure to participate would be met with retaliation or even termination.

This is a scenario that plays out across Oregon in every household where husband and wife inspect each other's "secret" ballots. How many women are afraid to vote against the will of their husbands or risk a beating?

We need to bring back the secret ballot and end this failed experiment.