Mail-in voting is extremely important especially for those who are not capable of traveling to voting booths, or those who have anxiety especially in the horrifying political climate we are entrenched in. The fact that anyone would consider removing our right to mail in our ballots is indicative of the priorities of our governing bodies as a whole. WE should be focused on the things that actually matter, securing the rights and freedoms of everyone, regardless of sex, gender, orientation or race, dismantling the corrupt governing bodies that oppress us and abolishing the corrupt and corrupt(ing) police systems that systematically target people of color for nothing more than personal satisfaction. Instead we're being offered the illusion of choice surrounding Mail in voting. Unbelievable.
